

GOING ORGANIC PROGRAM

Speeding California's transition to organic farming

The CCOF Foundation's Going Organic project is designed to accelerate the transition to organic and provides education to producers and their advisors that helps foster the growth of organic agriculture. The project trains new organic growers through workshops and organic system plan trainings.

This OSP Training seminar will provide a detailed look at documenting farm management practices and filling out an OSP, the first step towards organic certification. This program is free, open to everyone and offers valuable information about organic production.
